David Ambroz
President
Los Angeles City Planning Commission

David Ambroz joined the Los Angeles City Planning Commission as an appointee of Mayor Eric Garcetti in 2013, and was elected in 2014 as the President of the Commission. In that role, David presides over hearings and provides oversight and review of cases on planning matters in the City of Los Angeles.

The Planning Commission is responsible for giving advice and making recommendations to the Mayor, Council, Director of Planning, and other City departments and agencies with respect to zoning ordinances, amendments to the General Plan and related activities, including legislation. The Commission studies planning policy matter and makes reports and recommendations to other governmental officers or agencies as may be necessary to implement and secure compliance with the General Plan; and performs other functions prescribed by the Charter or ordinance. The Commission holds public hearings to hear evidence that forms the basis of its decisions.

Mr. Ambroz is also the Executive Director, Corporate Citizenship & Social Responsibility, Disney | ABC Television Group. In that role, David leads DATG's pro-social and philanthropic efforts, aligning charitable giving and other pro-social activities with the business and brand objectives of DATG family of channels including ABC, ABC Family, Disney Channel, Disney XD, Disney Jr., Radio Disney, the OTV, ABC News, and Fusion.

Prior to joining Disney, Mr. Ambroz was the Executive Director of Los Angeles City College Foundation. He led for the foundation all aspects of fundraising, grant application & management, marketing & communication, alumni affairs – and taught American Political Science. Earlier, David was an active attorney.

David received a juris doctorate from the UCLA School of Law. He also has a bachelor's degree in Political Science from Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, VA. He resides in Hollywood.
