Join us on September 6th at USC for the Los Angeles Business Council's SUSTAINABILITY SUMMIT in partnership with USC President Dr. Carol Folt, USC Sol Price School of Public Policy, and the USC Schwarzenegger Institute for State and Global Policy.

This year's Summit will focus on meeting California's goals and will include off-shore wind, a new hydrogen hub designation, expansion of the western energy market and new regional transmission. It will also focus on advancing toward zero emission transportation, managing water resources, and how to best capitalize on the billions of dollars of federal incentives and the private capital markets.
